

This past April, the Rush Pikes Peak U11 Nike Boys team and coach Dale Armstrong helped raise money for the St. Baldrick's Foundation, a volunteer driven charity which helps fund cancer research for children. The team raised over $600 for the cause and on April 21, five members of the team actually shaved their heads to support those children who actually lose their hair during their treatments. Please see below for before and after pictures of the boys. Well done boys for your support of this great cause!
